PUMP DEFENDERS

Crafted from Green, Medium Density, Matala Filtration Media, Pump Defenders are designed for use with submersible sump style pumps and can significantly increase the lifespan of said systems.

The installation of a Pump Defender helps prevent large debris from entering and clogging the pump.

This in turn increases the lifespan of the equipment and decreases maintenance requirements.

Matala Pump Defenders are a unique product that protects pumps and improves biological filtration within water bodies.

Matala Filter Media is incredibly versatile and provides both mechanical and biological filtration. The Genuine Matala Media in these defenders won't fall apart like inferior copies and will not clog when used correctly.

Additionally, the use of a Matala Pump Defender reduces nutrient load when used with circulation pumps in ponds by providing a home for beneficial bacteria and cleaning is as simple as shaking off debris and rinsing the media (preferably with water from the body which it filters to prevent death of beneficial bacteria living in the media).

Medium Density Green Matala Filtration Media has a fibre diameter of 0.9mm and, when utilised in a Pump Defender capacity, can protect your pump from medium to large particles which would otherwise enter the intake and potentially reduce operation efficiency or cause clogging and/or damage within the pump.

Matala Pump Defenders are available in 6", 9" and 12" inner diameters.

Pump Defenders are easy to install and will protect your pump for years to come.
